

Check-In

The quick version. The full guided journal is a separate companion product.

MORNING

Before the first Block

Today, I'm the kind of person who...

One thing I'm setting down before I start (worry, grudge, dread):

One thing worth remembering today:

One relationship I want to show up for today:

If today goes the way I want, what does that actually look like?

EVENING

After the last Block

What actually happened today — not what should have:

One Block (or moment) I'm proud of:

One thing I'm carrying into tomorrow — and one thing I'm leaving here:

Who or what am I grateful for today:

One thing I'd do differently — just noting it, not beating myself up:

“You don't have to finish the day well. You just have to close it.”
